WELCOME TO THE FRESH COAST

The Fresh Coast Film Festival is the first of its kind: a documentary film festival celebrating the outdoor lifestyle, water-rich environment and resilient spirit of the Great Lakes and Upper Midwest. The festival will gather the best in adventure cinema from around the world while creating a venue for, and building a culture of, Great Lakes storytelling.

Fresh Coast will be held annually in October during the height of fall color season in the Lake Superior harbor town of Marquette, Michigan. Here the waves of an inland sea crash on the bedrock remains of the ancient Huron Mountains. A red lighthouse winks across the water at thousand-foot freighters slipping through the fog. Singletrack trails link a historic downtown with world class mountain biking, trail running and waterfalls. After a day of play, a vibrant brewing and dining scene rewards hard work with ingredients and inspiration drawn from the crisp clean waters of Lake Superior. We think you'll like it here.

ENJOY THE FEST!

A WELCOME FROM THE DIRECTOR

Welcome to the Fresh Coast of the Universe. The Great Lakes hold 6 quadrillion gallons of fresh water, the most on Earth and therefore quite probably the most in the entire universe. If that's not something worth protecting and celebrating we're not sure what is.

Fresh Coast Film Festival is the first of its kind, a documentary film festival celebrating the outdoor lifestyle, water-rich environment and resilient spirit of the Great Lakes and Upper Midwest. Through Fresh Coast we hope to gather the outdoor fun hogs, tree huggers, dirt worshippers and starry-eyed creatives of this region in one place for one weekend to learn from each other, be inspired by some of the greatest adventure cinema in the world as well as from the woods and waters surrounding these precious sweetwater seas.

For the inaugural Fresh Coast we've gathered nearly 60 short and feature films alongside 10 outdoor tours showcasing the outdoor playground of the Marquette area.

We're extremely excited to host adventure filmmaker and native son Bryan Smith of Reel Water Productions as an example of Midwestern work ethic and the power of following your passion. Additionally we're joined by adventurers and conservationists Dave and Amy Freeman for the world premiere of Bear Witness, a short film chronicling their efforts to protect a Midwestern treasure, the Boundary Waters Canoe Area. The Freemans remind us that we must speak loudly for quiet places. Others joining us and speaking out for our region include Paul Hendricks and Colin McCarthy, the creators of the film Great Lakes, Bad Lines that has brought global awareness to the threat of aging oil pipelines beneath the Great Lakes.

We also feel it's important to recognize the original peoples of this region, our Native American brothers and sisters who've inhabited these shores for generations and still fight for them and their way of life. Fresh Coast is proud to showcase the work of filmmaker Finn Ryan whose short film series The Ways is an elegant portrait of a living Anishinabe culture in the Great Lakes region.

Conservation should be fun. Get out and explore the wild places of the Midwest: our glaciated ancient mountain ranges, sweeping sand dunes, islands and hidden beaches. Know this land. Introduce others to it. Help grow a culture of conservation and storytelling that helps preserve a globally significant landscape so that we always have the land and water, not just stories of what it once was.

The Fresh Coast of the Universe is yours, what will you do with it?

Aaron Peterson

Fresh Coast Film Festival Program Director

MARQUETTE, MI

Marquette is a thriving Lake Superior harbor town that embodies the resilient spirit of the region.

Marquette's history is intrinsically linked to the landscape. Originally born as a hub for mineral exploration, Marquette became the main shipping port for iron ore from surrounding mines, which continues today.

Though it's long been considered the cultural and economic hub of the region, Marquette remains true to its adventurous boot-strap roots. Today it's recognized as an outdoor recreation destination, a young-at-heart university town and an affordable launchpad for the entrepreneurial spirit.

Many voices have made Marquette what it is today, and we at Fresh Coast are proud to add ours to the story of a little town on the edge of a big lake doing neat things.

WHERE TO EAT &

When you're not exploring the area, watching movies, or taking the gallery walk, you should definitely be eating. Marquette has a wonderful variety of eatery's that feature local farm to table cuisine. Not many areas can boast of putting a whitefish on your plate that hours before was swimming in Lake Superior! Check throughout this guide to find one of these quaint, healthy, locally owned restaurant's that will whip you up an amazing meal after a hard day of play. Here are just a few of our favorites.

BORDER GRILL

Fresh Mexican in a Fast Casual atmosphere. Border Grill has become a staple for locals and visitors alike. Street Tacos and drunken beans highlight a menu unique to their Border Grill "Test Kitchen" located on 800 N. 3rd Street. Within walking distance from Blackrocks Brewery. You can also visit two of their traditional locations at 1145 W. Washington Street in Marquette or 400 US-41 in Negaunee.

SWEETWATER CAFÉ

Sweet Water Café is a natural foods restaurant, café, bakery, and bar, serving good food made from scratch using whole, natural, organic, and local ingredients. Throughout the entire year, and especially during growing season, Sweet Water Cafe strives to source our food from local farmers and food producers as often as possible. They believe locally-sourced food frequently excels in quality, flavor and freshness— especially when the food arrives to Sweet Water Café directly from the farm. The cafe is open for breakfast, lunch, dinner, drinks, and dessert seven days a week.

WHERE TO DRINK

DONCKERS

Experience a piece of the past with a twist of the new. Enjoy breakfast, lunch and dinner with all natural and made from scratch ingredients. Top off your visit with a trip to our candy store for house-made chocolates, sweets and ice cream from the old fashioned soda fountain. Don't forget to check out the unique gifts in the store!

THE VIERLING

The Vierling Restaurant has been a focal point in downtown Marquette for over one hundred years and is Marquette's original micro brewery! Located on the corner of Front and Main Streets, the building overlooks the historic Marquette Harbor and for years has remained a place to meet, talk business, relax, and celebrate.

THE ORE DOCK BREWING COMPANY

Brewed with Lake Superior water and located in the heart of downtown Marquette, the Ore Dock Brewing Company is where craft beer and community meet. Specializing in Belgian and American style ales, the Ore Dock Brewing Company offers tours, a tasting room, and community space where outside food is welcome.

BLACKROCKS BREWERY

Marquette's first nano brewery offers a variety of brews in their cozy tap room, located on 3rd Street. Located in a small house which is now their brewery and tasting room, Blackrock's has a neighborly feel where people can meet, play chess or debate politics. Their mission is to have fun and brew great beer that challenges conventional norms. They offer you a wide variety of beers and rotate them regularly. The Blackrocks experience is local, unique, and diverse.

EXPLORE

Visit the National Ski Hall of Fame

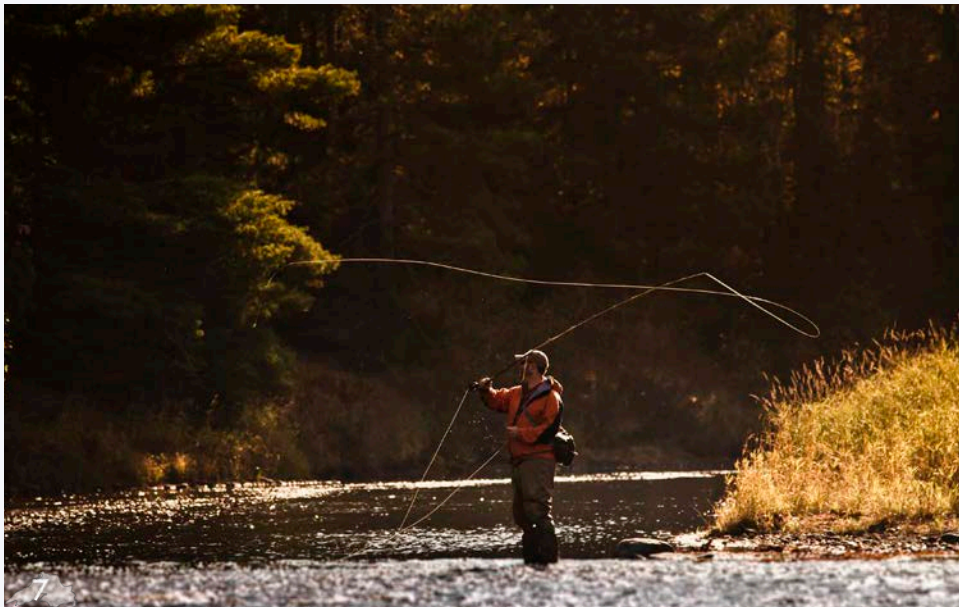

The U.S. Ski & Snowboard Hall of Fame and Museum is located in the City of Ishpeming in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, the birthplace of organized skiing in the United States. It is home to an extensive collection of artifacts and archives relating to the history of skiing. It has 20,000 square feet of space containing displays on over 400 Honored Members, trophies, clothing and equipment.

Watch a Sunrise or Sunset

There are very few places in the world where you can watch the sun rise out of a body of water and then in the evening go and watch the sun set into the same body of water- Marquette is one of those places! Take an early-morning trip out to one of the beaches in east Marquette for a spectacular sunrise, or join the people who gather each night at Presque Isle to see the sun set into the lake. Whichever you prefer – morning or night – you are in for a great start or end to any day.

Cliff Jump at Black Rocks

There are loads of things to do in the outdoors when you visit Marquette but only one of them is a time honored tradition of locals- cliff jumping at Black Rocks. The 17 foot drop into the crystal clear waters of the greatest of all Great Lakes takes nerve, not necessarily for the height of the jump, but certainly for the temperature of the water.

Hike Sugarloaf

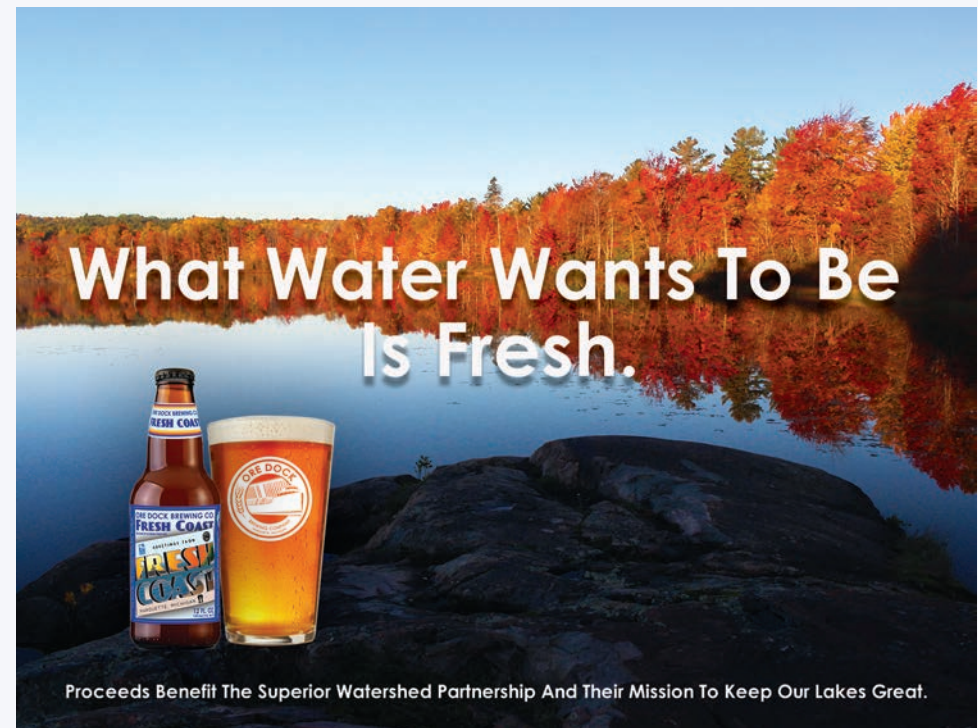

Hands down Sugarloaf Mountain is one of the most scenic overlooks on the central Upper Peninsula coastline. The Sugarloaf Mountain Natural Area consists of a 3,200 foot trail of pathway and stairway segments that lead to the mountain's summit rising 470 feet above Lake Superior. There are viewing platforms on the mountain's summit which provide a 360 degree spectacular view of the rugged coastline and surrounding forestlands.

Explore the Children's Museum

The Upper Peninsula Children's Museum is a regional, interactive hands-on museum featuring exceptional and unique displays and related innovative programs providing a unique place for children and families to learn through participation. Each exhibit is the product of participatory design workshops which saw children and families designing all of the Museum's exhibits.

Learn at the Marquette Regional History Center

So much to learn and so fun to explore! Fully immersive, interactive exhibits include an authentic pioneer cabin moved log by log from a local homestead, a fur trading post, an Ojibwe wigwam, a Finnish sauna, a Yooper camp, what's underwater in Lake Superior and a full size beaver dam. Fun for the whole family!

FILMS

We've pulled together a visual feast of nearly 60 films from the Fresh Coast and beyond along the themes of Adventure, Conservation and Inspiration. Fresh Coast 2016 is home to several world and regional premieres. You are the first to witness these stories unfold. In these times of media saturation there is still magic in gathering together in darkness for an untold story.

Marvel at the wonders of the Canadian Rockies through the first paragliding traverse of this majestic mountain range. Plunge into the depths of a little-known canyon in Papua New Guinea with whitewater kayakers. Surf the barren wind swept breaks of Iceland, the surging rivers of Montana and our own cold, fresh coasts of Lakes Superior.

Climb the world class crags of Devils Lake, Wisconsin, the frozen pillars of Munising, Michigan and the uncharted walls of Baffin Island. Sail a handmade canoe 1,200 miles around Lake Michigan on a wing and a prayer and the generosity of strangers.

Reflect on the ancient ways of those who came before and open your hearts to this land's original peoples and the conservation ethic they've inspired.

Meet the people behind the films. The storytellers of the region who follow their passion to bring these films to life. Filmmaking is a team sport and the anchor of that team is you, the viewer. Without an audience a story is mute. Gather up the films of Fresh Coast, make them a part of you and take them forward.

FILMMAKER IN ATTENDANCE • SUBJECTS IN ATTENDANCE

On September 23, 2015, Dave and Amy Freeman embarked on a yearlong adventure in the Boundary Waters Canoe Area Wilderness in northern Minnesota to protect America's most visited wilderness area from proposed sulfide-ore copper mining. The two traveled more than 3,000 miles by canoe and dog team as they explored more than 500 lakes and streams throughout the year. The journey began on the fall equinox, on the edge of the Boundary Waters in Ely, Minnesota, and concluded with a paddle back to where they started along the Kawishiwi River into Birch Lake near the proposed copper mine site. In 2014, Dave and Amy traveled by canoe and sailboat from Ely to Washington, DC, on the Paddle to DC as a first step in their efforts to protect the Wilderness.

The DLFA

2014, 35min

The DLFA was a haphazard assortment of talented young misfits unified by their unwavering pursuit of climbing, partying, and testing the boundaries of socially acceptable behavior. America's dairy land was an unlikely location for a group of skilled climbers to emerge, but in the late 1970s and throughout the 1980s they established bold first ascents at Devil's Lake State Park (Wisconsin) and elsewhere in the Midwest.

Lake Michigan in a Dugout

2016, 41min

FILMMAKERS IN ATTENDANCE

Lake Michigan in a Dugout: The Documentary is a film following the story of two women chasing their ridiculous dream: to journey around Lake Michigan aboard their handmade dugout sailing canoe, an adventure that would ultimately take them over 1,200 miles in 93 days. Told in part through the friendly banter between the two and the friends they made along the way, the documentary explores the search for everyday adventure and the power of our imaginations to push dreams into reality.

Locked In: First Descent of the Berriman Gorge

2016, 25min

FILMMAKER IN ATTENDANCE

Locked In brings us to Papua New Guinea, a country seldom traveled, and into the Berriman Gorge, a river even less traveled. Led by Ben Stookesberry and Chris Korbolic a team of four professional kayakers quest down this daunting river, which features a link-up of gorges so deep and narrow that you can't see the bottom from a helicopter. What the kayakers encounter are class five rapids, 40-foot waterfalls, slippery bushwhacking, "lethal caves" and one of the most arduous expeditions of their lives. Through rope work, paddle work, team work and sheer determination, they dare to attempt a first descent and plunge into a world of unknowns.

FILMMAKER IN ATTENDANCE

Predator/Prey: The Fight for Isle Royale Wolves is a beautifully shot film focusing on the debate over Isle Royale's dwindling population of wolves, which initially came to the island over a frozen Lake Superior five decades or more ago. The island's wolf population once reached 50 wolves and averaged 25 wolves over decades, until a population crash happened in recent years due to the physical and reproductive impacts of inbreeding. Only two wolves are left on the island. Kaufman's film takes us from Michigan, to Minnesota to Yellowstone and back in order to gather the full implications of what the predator/prey relationship on Isle Royale means to the scientific community internationally.

Rockies Traverse

2015, 53min

FILMMAKER IN ATTENDANCE

When Will Gadd and Gavin McGlurg decided they wanted to define a bold new style in paragliding, they could not have picked a more vegetated, convoluted and downright burly route to test their concept. With one simple rule of only being able to make forward progress in the air, they set off on a 420-mile traverse of the Canadian Rockies. In terrain where bears outnumber people, roads are non-existent and flying conditions push them to their limits, they break all the typical rules of paragliding in an attempt at the longest pure paragliding flight ever.

SHORT FILMS

Short Films

The Fresh Coast is made of many small drops. Short films pack a punch and are often the most memorable experience from a film festival. We've done our best to curate a lineup of diverse shorts celebrating the outdoor lifestyle, natural beauty and cultural heritage of the Fresh Coast and beyond.

In the shorts programming Alaskan salmon swim beside the Aurora of Michigan, artists from Minnesota and cycling in Kansas. Good things come in small packages and the Fresh Coast 2016 short film lineup has lots to unwrap.

Adams Rib 2012, 8 min.

A powerful look at how a wood and canvas canoe builder's work defines him.

An Artists Frontier 2016, 8 min.

SUBJECT IN ATTENDANCE

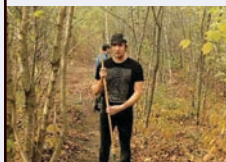

Follow along with Minnesota native Josh DeSmit, working artist and avid fly angler, as he explores the West in search of inspiration, his place in the art world, and of course, dry fly-eating cutties. Meet Josh as he demonstrates his craft during Fresh Coast.

Bandit Cross: Ruining it for Everyone 2012, 14 min.

FILMMAKER IN ATTENDANCE

Much more than another race series, Bandit Cross takes cyclocross back to its roots and out to the people. It's about racing for fun, sharing good times and building community. Organizer Jeff Frane talks about how anyone with a passion for cycling can organize a local Bandit Cross race.

BRYAN SMITH

FEATURED GUEST

Bryan Smith is an award winning filmmaker based out of Squamish, British Columbia. His first documentary, 49 Megawatts, received acclaim both for its amazing kayaking footage and insightful exploration of the controversy over British Columbia's river based energy production. Bryan has since built on his adventure film roots developing a strong reputation in both TV documentary and commercial cinematography. With a knack for storytelling, proven ability to assemble great teams and an insane work ethic his client list has grown to include National Geographic, Discovery, Disney, BBC, Red Bull Media House, Patagonia, New Belgium Brewing, Arc'teryx and more. Smith, a native of Traverse City, Michigan, is also part of a global speaking tour with National Geographic. At Fresh Coast he'll share behind the scenes stories of filmmaking in some of the world's most remote locations, as well as his personal journey to the height of the profession.

Inspired by the U.P.'s trails, forests, rivers & shorelines. Handcrafted in Marquette.

DAVE & AMY FREEMAN

FEATURED GUESTS

Since 2001 Dave and Amy Freeman have traveled over 30,000 miles by kayak, canoe and dogsled through some of the world's wildest places, from the Amazon to the Arctic. National Geographic named the Dave and Amy Adventurers of the Year in 2014. They use exploration to highlight life lessons, conservation, and backcountry skills that benefit a varied audience. When Dave and Amy aren't on expeditions or speaking tours, they guide canoe, kayak and dogsled trips near their home on the edge of the Boundary Waters Canoe Area Wilderness in Northern Minnesota. The Freemans recently completed a Year in the Wilderness, traveling by canoe and dog team through the Boundary Waters for an entire year engaging in research of the area and raising awareness of mining development threatening this pristine and cherished wilderness region. The film Bear Witness chronicles that experience and will premiere at Fresh Coast 2016.

An amazing juried Fine Art Fair in Downtown Marquette on beautiful Lake Superior.

www.MarquetteArtOnTheRocks.com

A collage of images showing people enjoying outdoor activities: a person on a mountain bike, a person sitting on a rock by a lake, and a child on a bicycle. The text "Your Adventure Starts Here..." is prominently displayed in yellow. Below it, a list of services is provided: "Bike Sales & Rentals", "Outdoor Gear", "Beer and Wine", and "Organic Deli & Grocery". The logo for "THE FLYING MOOSE MARQUETTE, MI" is also present. At the bottom, the address "351 W. Washington St., Downtown Marquette" and phone number "273-2246" are listed. A small circular logo for "2ND LOCATION AT PETER WHITE PUBLIC LIBRARY" is in the bottom right corner.

MOUNTAIN BIKE TOUR - SOUTH TRAILS

This Trail Network is well known for having some of the best single track riding in the Midwest. The super scenic loops travel along cascading rivers, through colorful forests and over the rugged terrain. This is a ride to get you off the grid and into some serious fun!

Saturday	9am	$80
Sunday	9am	$80

LAKE SUPERIOR SUP TOUR

Long considered "the gem" of Marquette, Presque Isle is a small peninsula of land protruding into Lake Superior. The crystal clear clarity of the water will amaze first time visitors to the area. The park's jagged shoreline is more than two miles in length and contains some of the oldest exposed rock formations in North America. After a brief introduction to SUP we will paddle along sandstone cliffs, into small caves, and to the black lava type Pre-Cambrian rocks that are over 1 billion years old.

Sunday	10am	$80

WATERFALL TOUR

From cascading falls that slide over rock beds to impressive vertical drop falls that one can walk behind this waterfall tour will explore some of the prettiest waterfalls that the U.P. has to offer. On our tour we will check off seven different falls, all unique in their own right, and we will have the opportunity to photograph them in peak color season!

Sunday	8am	$30
--------	-----	------

GUIDED FLY FISHING TOUR

Fly fishing in Michigan's Upper Peninsula has a long storied history. For centuries many have traveled to this remote area of the U.S. to fly fish for native Trout. The U.P. has hundreds of miles of spring fed streams that host strong populations of wild Trout that are eager to rise to a well presented fly. Join Riversnorth Guide Service of Marquette, and fish one of the blue ribbon streams of the U.P.

Sunday 8am $450

HOGSBACK HIKING TOUR

Hogback Mountain rises majestically just to the north of Marquette, Michigan. It is one of the southernmost peaks in the remote Huron Mountain Range. The peak rises 600 feet above the surrounding terrain and is unique in that its summit is mostly devoid of vegetation. The trail passes through a mixed hardwood forest with high vistas and the views of Lake Superior from the summit are truly spectacular.

Saturday 8am $20

Sunday 8am $20

LAKE SUPERIOR SEA KAYAK TOUR

Presque Isle- or the "island" as true yoopers call it, is located on a 323-acre forested oval-shaped peninsula which juts into Lake Superior just minutes from downtown Marquette. Designed with guidance from Frederick Law Olmstead, the park was home to the last chief of the local band of Ojibwe people, Charlie Kabagum and it has been a favorite destination since the settlement period of Marquette. Without a doubt, Presque Isle Park is Marquette's most beloved attraction, offering residents and visitors year-round outdoor recreation opportunities literally minutes from town! The park's jagged shoreline is more than two miles long and contains some of the oldest exposed rock formations in the world. Most of the park is undeveloped woodland including white birch and maple stands, accented with areas of virgin white pine and huge hemlock trees. After a brief introduction to paddling, we will explore this amazing shoreline!

Saturday 9am $80

IRON ORE HERITAGE TRAIL GRAVEL GRINDER TOUR

The Iron Ore Heritage Trail traverses 47 miles across the Marquette Iron Range in Michigan's beautiful Upper Peninsula. The trail shares and celebrates the area's rich mining history with interpretive signage, artwork and connections to museums along the way. On your journey, you'll see many relics from a bygone era: mining shafts, forges, furnaces and other historical structures. The trail follows several former railroads, some dating back to the 1850s, built to carry the iron ore from the mines to the Lake Superior harbor: Our trip will begin in Negaunee and travel downhill towards the shores of Lake Superior in Marquette. The trail is a mix of pavement and crushed gravel, and total trip mileage will be 12 miles.

FRESH COAST CONVERSATIONS

Welcome to Rabbit Island

Saturday 8-9 am, Zephyr Wine Bar, 215 South Front Street

In just a few years Dr. Rob Gorski has taken Rabbit Island from an unlikely Craigslist ad to a creative conservation movement. Meet Gorski and some of the artists who've spent time on the remote Lake Superior island that will forever remain whole.

The Ways

Saturday 2:15-3:15 pm Peter White Public Library Community Room

Meet award-winning filmmaker Finn Ryan for a discussion on his work with Native American communities for The Ways, a series of short films exploring contemporary Native language and culture in the Upper Midwest.

Something's Missing: Ecology Lessons of the Upper Midwest

Sunday 10-11 am - Ore Dock Brewery

Join friend of the Fresh Coast Randy Swaty of The Nature Conservancy for a look at Upper Midwest ecosystems past and present—and what's predicted for the future.

Conservation Roundtable

Sunday 11 am-12 pm - Ore Dock Brewery

Dave and Amy Freeman are joined by representatives from other regional conservation organizations for a discussion on past, current and future threats to the Great Lakes region and related conservation efforts.

AFTER PARTIES

After the projectors go dim and the lights go on the party gets started on the Fresh Coast at these Marquette hotspots.

Friday:

Blackrocks Brewery.

The little house that could, on the corner of Third and Michigan. Owners Andy and Dave had a dream and Marquette made it come true. It all started here as the area's first nano-brewery. Named for a slab of black bedrock at Presque Isle Park, the brewery is thriving as it cans and delivers a taste of Marquette to the Upper Midwest. Sales of Blackrocks 51k IPA have helped drive world-class trail development for Marquette.

Saturday:

Ore Dock Brewing Company

The craft-brewing crew at ODBC knows what water wants to be. They mix pure Lake Superior water with a secret sauce for a fresh spin on traditional Belgian, English and American ales. Heck, they've even got one called Fresh Coast. ODBC is a huge supporter of live music and community events in Marquette, and distributes its products regionally.

GALLERY DISCOVERY

Downtown Marquette is full of unique restaurants, galleries and shops just waiting to be discovered. During the weekend the Fresh Coast Film Festival encourages folks to get out and explore Marquette's diverse artist community.

Down Wind Sports

Join artist Josh Desmit, featured in the short film An Artist's Frontier as he demonstrates his fly-fishing inspired craft at Down Wind Sports on Friday. Many pieces of Josh's art will be displayed at Down Wind Sports throughout the weekend.

Lake Superior Photo

Some of the most amazing Landscape photography of the Lake Superior Region and Upper Peninsula of Michigan that you will ever find! Be sure to stop by and check out the unbelievable aurora borealis art that photographer Shawn Malone has captured.

Marquette Wall Paper and Paint

Located across the street from the Fresh Coast free venue, stroll by and enjoy local nature and adventure photography from Bill Thompson.

Sweetwater

Sweet Water Café features six-week displays of mostly local artists. Much of the work is two dimensional, including paintings, photos, collages, quilts, weavings, drawings and the like. Occasional sculptures adorn our windowsills and dessert and bakery cases.

The Ore Dock Brewing Company

The Ore Dock Brewing Company will be hosting an artist reception and showing of Beth Price artwork Friday October 14th, from 5pm-7pm. Beth Price is based in Northern Michigan. It is here that she finds much inspiration in the color palette and light that falls throughout the changing seasons, in the open landscapes, and in the freshwater that is so abundant. In Water : A Photographic Exploration is the result of Beth's passion for The Great Lakes and freshwater- while weaving in human and environmental dimensions.

Zero Degrees Artist Gallery

Zero Degrees Artist Gallery presents works by established and emerging local artists. On display you will find a wide range of artisan crafts and fine art including ceramics, fiber, greeting cards, jewelry, mixed media, painting, illustration, woodworking, photography, and sculpture. There is an assortment of unique styles with many artists incorporating upcycled or recycled materials in their items.

Beaumier Heritage Center

This Fall, the Heritage Center will delve into the realm of ghost towns with an exhibit that features fifteen communities. In each county of the U.P. there are several communities that could be considered ghost towns, but the exhibit will be featuring only one community for each county of the U.P.

These towns were settled around mines, mills, and railroads across the Upper Peninsula. When these operations were prosperous, so were the towns. With the depletion of natural resources often came the exodus of these operations and the decline of the boom towns. Many ghost towns have similar stories and faced the same difficulties. Yet every town and its tale is different, from the first mining operation in Michigan to Henry Ford's model town. Some towns are still home to residents. Others are nothing more than ramshackled buildings, some preserved for prosperity, others forgotten. Some of these towns have been reclaimed by nature or completely destroyed for safety's sake.

The exhibit will tell the stories of ghost towns across the U.P. through historic and contemporary photographs, a history of each site, and drone video footage. The exhibit showcases towns of renown and obscurity, including Fayette, Pequaming, Victoria, Johnstown, and others.

Beth Millner Jewelry

At Beth Millner Jewelry, their passion is crafting quality wearable art inspired by the beautiful natural landscape of the Upper Peninsula of Michigan and Lake Superior.

THE VENUES

You won't find red carpet on the Fresh Coast—our muddy boots, sandy sandals and wet waders would just ruin it anyway. Please thank these generous businesses and organizations for hosting Fresh Coast 2016.

Kaufman Auditorium

611 North Front Street

An historic space at the center of Marquette art, culture and education since 1925, the auditorium is named for banking pioneer Luis G. Kaufman. The 850-seat auditorium will be the site of Fresh Coast's evening feature programming.

Ore Dock Brewing Company

114 West Spring Street

ODBC's community space in the upstairs of a restored stone and timber industrial space is the perfect setting for Fresh Coast. Grab a pint and relax in this refined yet rustic space.

Blackrocks Brewery

424 North Third Street

Standing room only is the name of the game at this house-turned pub on the corner of Third and Michigan. What this space lacks in size it makes up for in good cheer, so squeeze in, high-five your neighbor and get your Fresh Coast on.

Masonic Center

128 West Washington Street

The Masons generously support Fresh Coast and have offered their third floor theater space for our use on Saturday and Sunday. Thank a Mason eh!

Peter White Public Library Community Room

217 North Front St

Join us in the Community Room on the lower level of the historic Peter White Public Library. While here take some time to explore this pillar of the Marquette community and the largest library on Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

Marquette Commons

112 South Third Street

The site of our kickoff event Fresh Coast Free. The Marquette Commons is a community space in downtown Marquette that's also home to our Saturday Farmer's Market. With support from the Downtown Marquette Association and Double Trouble DJs we'll kick off Fresh Coast beneath a large tent.

SPONSORS

We are overwhelmed with gratitude for the generosity and vision of the Marquette community. Fresh Coast would not be possible without generous financial and in-kind support from the following:

Fresh Coast thanks the Michigan Council for Arts and Cultural Affairs and Central Upper Peninsula Planning and Development Regional Commission for their generous support in our first year.

THANK YOU

A special thank you to the Fresh Coast volunteer army. Fresh Coast started less than a year ago as a casual conversation and has grown into what you see around you this weekend. It would not have been possible without the overwhelming support of the Marquette community and its vibrant volunteer culture. Please, take a moment and thank a volunteer. We are a non-profit organization with no paid staff. Everything that happened here this weekend was made possible through the time, talent and beliefs of volunteers.

Finally, thank you for attending. Thank you for believing. Thank you for Fresh Coasting with us. Please take something back, share it and help grow the community. Let's gather again stronger, smarter and more connected each year.
